We are looking for people who want to work in the run-up to, during and/or after events for assistance in building/breakdown, catering, drivers, stage managers, trainees, etc. For more information, you can email to volunteers@impakt.nl

The upcoming IMPACT Festival 2021 (3-7 November) is all about Modern Love (or Love in the Age of Cold Intimacies) and is curated by Katerina Gregos and Arjon Dunnewind. In our on-demand society, we increasingly meet, date and love online. A future in which algorithms, deep-fakes, avatars, robots and artificial intelligence determine our romantic experiences does not seem so far away. Elderly already get cuddly robots against loneliness and platforms like OnlyFans and social media offer limitless possibilities to perform our perfect self and engage in virtual love fantasies. How does this change the way we meet, date, love – or even break up? How can artists help us understand the way in which new technologies are affecting the most human of emotions –love?
